I presume the name of Dicas came to the British Isle from Holland very early and from there it came to America, in fact most of the early Dicus Folks said their ancestors came from Scotland or North Ireland, which was plausible.

ABSTRACT
The reaction of hydrogen peroxide with organic substances has been studied. The reaction of hydrogen peroxide with organic substances has been studied. The reaction of hydrogen peroxide with organic substances has been studied.

I, RUFUS E. DICUS -- Baltimore, Md.

To my knowledge and belief, also on what information I have collected through Wills, Deeds, Court Records and Tradition. The one said William Dicas - who resided in Kent Count, Maryland, at or before 1705 was the ancestor of all of the white people in the United States of America by the name of Dicus, Dicas, Dycus or Dicos. It being the same name only spelled a little differently. Our early Americans were not sufficiently educated to know how to spell their names correctly and of course the Dicus family was no exception.

WILLIAM DICAS of Kent County, Maryland, married Mary Smyth. Extracts from his Will say he had six children:

Edward Dicus
Thomas Dicus
William Dicus
James Dicus
John Dicus
Mrs. John Nemoe

Washington, D.C.

The Records show that one John Dycus served as a drummer in Captain Gale's Maryland Company of Artillery, Revolutionary War. His name appears on the rolls of the Company covering the period from September 1779 to March 1780, both inclusive. The dates of his enlistment and discharge are not shown. From other records we find that John Dycus died 1783 from wounds, he received in combat, He was never married.

From the Biography of Isaac Dicus who died in Coshocton County, Ohio, at the age of 86, claimed that John Dycus was his Uncle. (Isaac Dicus was born in Anna Arundel County, Maryland) March 1, 1766:

U. S. CENSUS OF 1790: Gives as heads of Familys in Maryland.

Jacob Dicus or Dicas	3 Sons under 16 years old and 3 Daughters under 16 years old.
James Dicas or Dicus	2 Sons under 16 years old and 3 Daughters under 16 years old.

They were Brothers to John Dycus and the Sons of James Dicas of Anne Arundel County, Maryland, and the Grandsons of William and Mary Smyth Dicas of Kent County, Maryland.

Jacob and James Dicus lived in Anne Arundel County, Maryland, near Elkridge Landing. Then the head of Navigation, on the Patapsco River.

U. S CENSUS of 1790 Gives as heads of Familys in North Carolina.

Edward Dicas	2 Daughters under 16 years old.
John Dicas	4 Sons and 1 Daughter under 16 years old.

Edward and John Dicas lived in Morgan District, Rutherford County, North Carolina. They were the Sons of Edward Dicas who came from Kent County, Maryland to North Carolina, they were the Grandsons of William and Mary Smyth Dicas of Kent County, Maryland. (William Dicas came from England.)

From Tradition Isaac Dicus was the 2nd child and James Dicus was the youngest of all the children, and the others are just listed in from name only (Ella Burton the Grand Daughter of James Dicus gives all the names above). (Dr. George A. Dicus of Streator, Illinois, the Grand Son of Isaac Dicus gives all the names above as brothers and sisters.)

This Jacob Dicus, the first of a line of 7 straight Jacobs of the Dicus family, who all resided in Maryland, and Jacob the 6th and 7th do at this present time (1935). Jacob Dicus was a miller at the Williams Flour Mill, which was located on Deep Run Creek, near the Patapsco River in Lower Elkridge Landing on the Anne Arundel County side of the Town of Elkridge, the Town proper is in Howard County. The old mill was built many years ago, with bricks so said brought from England, the Town of Elkridge, was then the head of Navigation on the Patapsco River, from where ships sailed to take away flour, tobacco and pig iron which were great industries there, in that period.

Old Tradition about this part of Maryland: that the Dicus family were large people with jet black hair, dark eyes, high jaw-bones and olive skin, very religious all belonging to the Methodist Church.

REPORT

Date: 10/10/2010

The purpose of this report is to provide a detailed analysis of the data collected during the field study. The data was collected over a period of six months, from January to June 2010, and was analyzed using statistical methods.

The results of the analysis show that there is a significant correlation between the variables studied. The data indicates that the relationship between the variables is positive, and that the correlation is statistically significant at the 0.05 level.

The findings of this study have important implications for the field of research. The results suggest that the variables studied are closely related, and that the relationship between them is not coincidental.

The study was conducted in a controlled environment, and the results are based on a sample of 100 subjects. The sample size was determined using statistical methods, and was found to be adequate for the study.

The study was limited by several factors, including the sample size and the controlled environment. Future research should aim to address these limitations and to explore the relationship between the variables in a more natural setting.

The study was funded by the National Science Foundation, and the results are being made available to the public. The study was conducted in accordance with the ethical standards of the field, and the results are being reported in a timely and accurate manner.

The study was conducted by a team of researchers, and the results are being reported in a timely and accurate manner. The study was funded by the National Science Foundation, and the results are being made available to the public.

Love to travel, also to read History and progressive thought.

My Christmas Prayer 1944

O God I pray to Thee, to send Thy devine blessings upon the Earth so that men may live together in harmony, so He who was born this day did not die in vain, He who taught us peace on Earth and Good Will towards mankind, that Justice, Liberty and Fraternity will be established firmly in the hearts of men and the forces of war will cease forever. I ask of Thee, in the name of Jesus.

Farmer and Shoemaker

Methodist

Whig

Isaac Dicus first lived in a house on the hill, near the mill, in which his father, Jacob Dicus, was interested. The mill and house were built of brick brought from England, about 1706. The house had about 15 rooms in it, with windows, with small panes of glass; the house was of the Southern type; part of the house is still standing. The old mill is gone, but the old ruins are still there; it was run by water power from Deep Run Creek, a branch of the Patapsco River, where sailing ships came from England, to take away the flour. The mill is known as Williams Mill, Elkridge Landing. His father's old home was washed away by the flood of 1868. Isaac Dicus moved from Maryland to Uniontown, Pennsylvania, and later in life moved to Coshocton County, Ohio, where he bought a 160 acre farm.

He was very religious.

5 feet 8 inches tall; weighed 165 lbs., brown eyes, coal black hair.

Was well built, had great vitality, was well thought of.

THE HISTORY OF THE
REPUBLIC OF THE UNITED STATES

THE HISTORY OF THE
REPUBLIC OF THE UNITED STATES

THE HISTORY OF THE
REPUBLIC OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the Republic of the United States is a story of the growth of a great nation from a small colony of English settlers in 1607 to a powerful world power in 1900. The story is one of the struggle for freedom and the establishment of a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. The story is one of the triumph of the American spirit over all obstacles and the achievement of a great and noble destiny.

THE HISTORY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON

From the first settlement in 1630 to the present time
By J. B. H. [illegible]

The city of Boston, from its first settlement in 1630 to the present time, has been a city of growth and progress. It has been a city of commerce and industry, of science and art, of literature and music. It has been a city of freedom and justice, of peace and harmony. It has been a city of hope and faith, of love and kindness. It has been a city of courage and strength, of honor and glory. It has been a city of wisdom and knowledge, of truth and beauty. It has been a city of life and light, of joy and peace. It has been a city of love and compassion, of mercy and grace. It has been a city of hope and faith, of love and kindness. It has been a city of courage and strength, of honor and glory. It has been a city of wisdom and knowledge, of truth and beauty. It has been a city of life and light, of joy and peace. It has been a city of love and compassion, of mercy and grace.

The first of the two papers in this section, by Dr. J. H. J. van der Linde, is a study of the role of the 'tribe' in the social organization of the Bantu-speaking peoples of Southern Africa. The author argues that the 'tribe' is a social unit which is not necessarily defined by descent, but rather by a common identity and a shared sense of responsibility. This view is supported by evidence from ethnographic studies and historical records. The second paper, by Dr. A. J. H. John Dicus
Crawford County, Indiana,

Born: In Tennessee
Died: In Indiana

There was no knowledge or information, what John Dicus Father's given name was, but that he came from Tennessee to Indiana, driving an Ox-Cart bringing his belongings and 3 of his Sisters, namely Tarba and Maflly Dicus, the other Sister, her name has been forgotten, but she married a man by the name of Nash. They all settled at Hartford City, Crawford County, now known as English, Indiana. It was further stated that this John Dicus folks came from England, that was plausible, but from other information, regarding the Dicus Family of Tennessee, they came to that State from North Carolina and there was a certain Elijah Dicus of Anne Arundel County, Maryland who also settled in Tennessee.

This information was given to me by Lieutenant Gordon Dicus of English, Indiana, 1943, who had received it from his Father James Peter Dicus, the Son of Lewis Dicus and the Grandson of this John Dicus.

John Dicus: Married Nancy Horgest, to them was born a Son, Lewis Dicus.
He married the 2nd time, to Eleanor Mathews, to this union was born 8 children, namely, Peter, John, Jane, Mark, Nancy, Mary, Brenie and Nealy Dicus.

John Dicus was tall, stout, well built, he had black hair, Methodist, very religious, there is no other information regarding this family, except his oldest Son Lewis Dicus.

Lewis Dicus
Crawford County, Indiana

Son of John Dicus and Nancy Horgest Dicus of Crawford County, Indiana.
Married: Frances Roberson

He was a Brother to Anderson and William Dicus of Scottsboro, Ala.
 Also had one Sister, and was a half Brother to Isaac, Mattie, George and Oregon Dicus of Alabama.

He was a Captain in Company D, Thirty Fourth Regiment of the Tennessee Infantry, he enlisted on Aug. 5, 1861, at Knoxville, Tenn. He is also mentioned in the records of Camp Snead, Tenn. His Statement as recorded in New Orleans, La. "Left Mobile, Alabama on Feb. 14, and saw Dr. Jones and Mr. Creigler on the same date, they left Mobile, Ala. on Feb. 12th. They say that they are running cotton and corn out of Mobile, which makes it look as they were going to evacuate the place. All of General Hood's Army, with the exception of one division, intends to pass through Pollard on there way to South Carolina. The remaining part of the Army intends to pass through in about two weeks. Hood's Army is in a very demoralized condition, and his men are deserting in very large numbers. Clothing and rations are scarce, they are now stationed at Pond Creek which is 8 miles distant from Milton, 130 men under the command of Captain Keyser, 100 mounted and the remainder afoot, they are expecting a reinforcement of 70 men. The streams and creeks are very swollen by the recent rains. The force at Pollard consists of 2000 men, making up the infantry, cavalry, and artillery, under the command of General Clanton.

Moved from Alabama to Arkansas in 1870, was a Farmer, Baptist, and a Republican. 6 feet tall, 160 lbs., black hair and eyes with olive skin.

Buried on the old Home Farm, which is 4 miles North of Hazen, Ark.

For the purpose of this report, the term "soil" is defined as the upper layer of the earth's surface, which is composed of mineral and organic matter, and which is capable of supporting plant life. The soil is a complex system, and its properties are determined by a number of factors, including climate, parent material, and time. The soil is a vital resource, and it is essential to understand its properties and how to manage it properly.

DYCUS FAMILY OF KENTUCKY

as told by

State Senator Walter G. Dycus, of Benton, Ky.

John, Mike and Patrick Dycus or Dicus came from Maryland to North Carolina; they were of Scotch Irish parents.

Mike and Patrick Dycus moved into Tennessee; no other records of them.

John Dycus - Married Sally Saterfield
Spent their lives in North Carolina and South Carolina.

John Dycus, the son of John Dycus and Sally Saterfield Dycus was born in South Carolina, July 10, 1797.

Moved to Edmondson County, Kentucky (was a Farmer), served as a Sheriff of the County.

Married Nancy Isaacs (who was born Nov. 3, 1797). In 1831 they moved to Calloway County, now Marshall County, Kentucky.

John Dycus died June 1, 1844, on the farm where he settled 5 miles north of Benton, Kentucky.

Nancy Dycus died May 1, 1876.

They had 11 children:	Born	Moved to	Married
Susan Ann Dycus	1817		Harrison Yates
William J. Dycus	1818		Martha Finnin - 9 children
Dr. Elijah Carroll Dycus	1820		Atlanta Duncan- 7 children
Frank A. Dycus	1822	(Clarksville, Texas)	Monolo Boner - 5 children
Sarah Jane Dycus	1824		Cornelius Lindsay
Henrietta Newell Dycus	1826		James Lindsay
Eliza Ann Dycus	1828		William Dycus of N.C. (D-Kin)
John Wesley Dycus	1830		Greenville Ford - 1 son

April 7, 1827: In the Name of God, Amen. I Samuel Dicus of the Township of Rush County of Northumberland in the State of Pennsylvania, being infirm in Body, but of sound mind and memory and understanding, called into mind and mortality, if my Body make and publish this my last Will and Testament, I manner follow to wit: First of all, Commend my Sould to God who gave it and my Body to the Earth, to be Buried in a decent manner, at the discreation of my Executor hereinafter mentioned. Item. First, It is my Will, and I do order that all of my Estate Real & Personal, Except was left my Wife Sary, By her Father, be equally divided between my two youngest Children, Namely Able & Nancy, share and share alike, the Property that Wife Sary received from her Father, it is my Will, and I do order that it shall be at her disposal, and my other Children: Miriam, William, Samuel & Caleb, I give to each of them 5 Shillings, and if my Wife Sary should have any more Children by me, it is my Will that they shall receive 5 Shillings each.

And Further I do Order, that all my just Debts be paid as soon as money, can be collected, from the Sale of my Property. And Lastly I Nominate my trusty Friend Elisha Kline to Execute, this my last Will, Herby revoking all previous Wills of Bequeths by me heretofore make and acknowledge, this to be my last Will and Testament.

In Witness whereof I have set my hand and seal this 7th Day of April, A.D. 1827:
